- Hello Patriots!

The month of November is going by fast. With this said, it is important that you attend all of your classes via zoom and communicate with your teachers. If you are struggling in any class, please reach out to your teachers and attend their student tutorial sessions after school. After our Thanksgiving Break, we will only have three weeks of school left in December. Second quarter progress grades are just around the corner, coming up on the 19th of November. Time is of the essence! Don't wait for the last minute and be proactive now.

Please make sure to check and use your Canvas email. You don't want to miss out on important information. Remember to also visit your Counselor's Canvas page available on your dashboard. We have valuable information and resources for all students. We are available to speak with you via zoom, phone or email.

Counseling support services are available.

If students need additional support during this time, please contact your student's SLC counselor below to set up a time for your student to speak with them. You can also find counseling resources on the HHS website. Simply click on the Student Info tab and select Counseling to access the Virtual Wellness Center as well as student support services and resources.
