The game "Fortnite" is very popular with young people.

"Fortnite" is a survival game. You can play it with others online.

At first, the game could be played only on computers and video game systems.

In March, an iPhone version of the game came out. In just a few hours, it was the most popular iPhone game in 13 countries.

A company called Epic Games created "Fortnite." An earlier version of "Fortnite" came out in 2017. It was not as popular.

Free Game Grows In Popularity

Then, Epic made some changes to it. They also made "Fortnite" free to download.

Soon, the game exploded in popularity. In February, the game made more than $125 million from its computer, PlayStation and Xbox versions.

At any one time, there are 3.4 million people playing "Fortnite" online. Right now, you have to be invited by email to play it.

Kids Can't Get Enough Of Video Game

The game is especially popular with children. Some parents are concerned about this. They are writing posts online about it.

In February, a U.S. mother wrote an article. It was called "How I lost my kids to Fortnite."

Hundreds of parents responded to the post. One mother complained that her son was "addicted" to the game.

Fun, Unique Features

The game's look may be what makes it appealing to kids. It has bright pictures and silly humor, like a cartoon.

Players can buy different things in the game. Some buy clothing items for their character to wear. They also buy "emotes." These are digital ways of expressing feelings.

Players can dress up as astronauts and superheroes. They may also perform dance moves.

Smartphones are getting more powerful, says writer James Batchelor. Now, smartphone games can do more than they used to. Companies are trying to make more interesting games for smartphones. They want to attract gamers who use computers or videogame systems.

The game could still gain more players, too, says Piers Harding-Rolls. He studies business trends. The game has not gotten popular in China yet.

Even Rapper Drake Plays Game

Tyler "Ninja" Blevins is a popular "Fortnite" player. Last month, he played the game against the rapper Drake. More than 600,000 people watched. The live video was on the website Twitch.

Still, "Fortnite" could quickly become unpopular, too. The game "Pokemon Go" was downloaded 750 million times in its first year. It is no longer one of the top 50 iPhone game downloads.
