Chapter 13: The Executive Branch

ACROSS

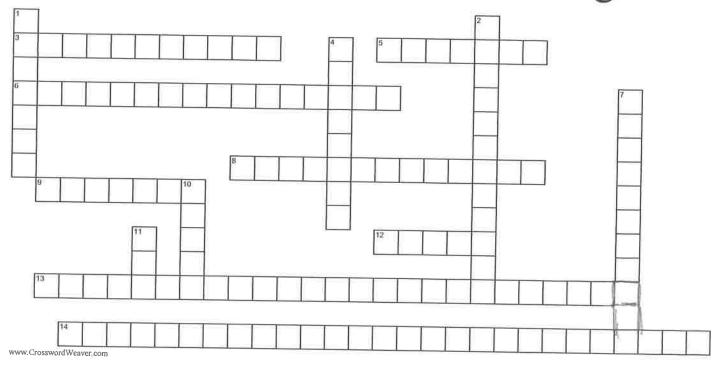

- 2 the primary duty of this person is to advise the president
- 9 this president started the tradition of referring to the president as "Mr. President." (last name)
- 10 this process allows states to remove their governor
- 11 postponment of punishment
- 15 this person's power has increased over time. He has the power to execute laws, command the military and appoint judges, ambassadors and high level bureaucrats
- 17 this president reached out directly to the American people through radio with his fireside chats and promoted New Deal reforms
- 18 employees who expose wrongdoing are called these

DOWN

- 1 this is something the president can do that frees a person from punishment for a crime
- 3 in order for a president to be impeached, this group

- needs to vote to accuse the president of wrongdoing
- 4 the president's power to deny access to White House documents
- 5 according to this theory about presidential power, the president can do anything he wants as long as the Constitution doesn't say he can't.
- 6 the presidential line of succession is the vice president, speaker of the house and this Senator.
- 7 speechwrtiters, admin assistants & press secretary are part of this group
- 8 the president has direct impact on economic policy by appointing members to this
- 12 the position of lieutenant governor is comparable to this federal executive position
- 13 this group of people advise the president
- 14 this president expanded the use of the presidential veto
- 16 the automatic killing of a bill by refusing to either sign it or veto it in the final days of a congressional session is called this

Chapter 14: The Federal Budget

ACROSS

- 3 food stamps, housing subidies and welfare payments are this type of spending
- 5 the Alaska bridge to nowhere was an example of this
- 6 the largest source of federal income comes from this source of taxes
- 8 this type of spending can be raised or lowered by Congress
- 9 this is the type of budget you have if your revenue exceeds your expenditures
- 12 these governments are often required to balance budgets
- 13 the role of this is to compare how the president's budget matches its own estimate of future revenues
- 14 this 1974 Act said the executive and legislative branch should share power over the creation of the budget

DOWN

- 1 this type of spending occurs when the federal government wants to fund programs without raising taxes
- 2 deficit spending makes this rise
- 4 this type of tax is charged by state and local, but not the federal government
- 7 this power allows a president to refuse to spend money. It was abused by President Nixon.\
- 10 this type of tax is regressive
- 11 before 1921, Congress only raised taxes to pay for this