

Introduction to the SAT

1. How long is the SAT without the essay?

2. What is the highest score you can get on the SAT?

3. What does the SAT measure?

4. What are the three tests that everyone will take? Which test is optional?

5. If you take the SAT multiple times, which scores will colleges consider?

6. What do “command of evidence” questions on the Reading Test ask you to do?

7. How many points is each question worth on the Writing and Language Test?

8. For the student-produced response questions on the Math Test, do fractions need to be reduced to their lowest terms?

9. Is there a wrong-answer penalty on the SAT?

10. What is the website where you can find practice materials? What is the name of the SAT practice app?
